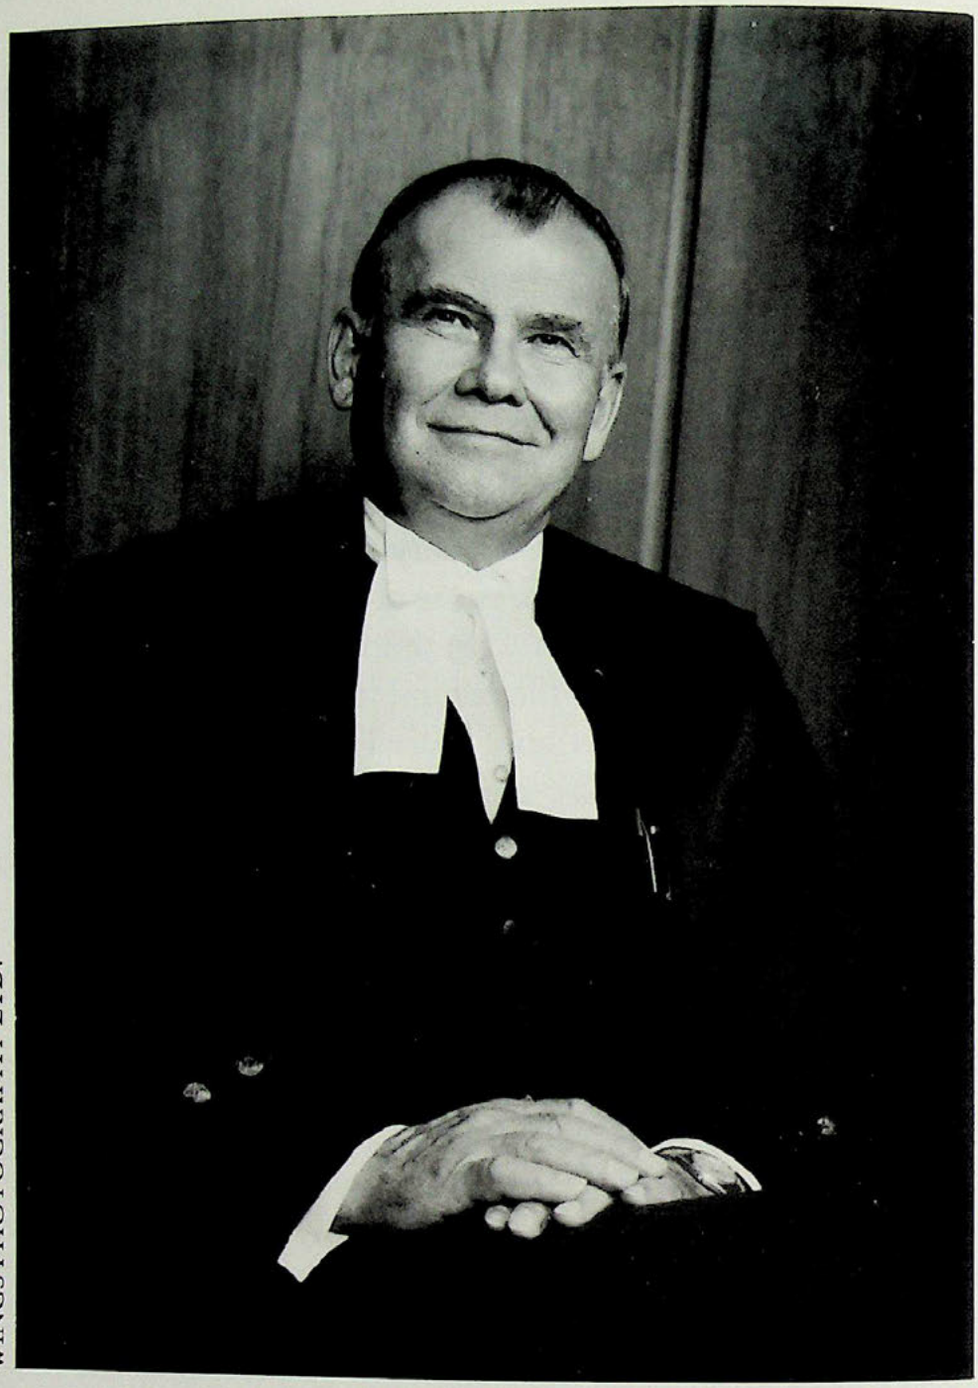
The Year at John D. Bracco School

This, the second year of operation for John D. Bracco School, has been a very exciting and productive one. This was our first use of all 8 classrooms in the pod for an entire school year following the completion of the second floor of the pod towards the end of the last school year. This allowed us to have dedicated science labs, music, art and drama rooms and Industrial Arts/Home Economics classrooms for the school year.

Many new clubs and teams where formed this year to provide students with additional learning opportunities outside of classroom time, and our inter-school teams performed well.

The involvement of the school in the local community was maintained through the Work Experience program and in fact was increased through our involvement in the United Way campaign and many classroom activities outside the school. Learning resources in the library and the classrooms continued to expand. Many visitors came to the school from other areas to see how we are improving student achievement through dealing with all students' needs.

John D. Bracco School is quickly establishing a tradition and reputation for providing students with the environment and opportunities to achieve to their potential and we will continue to seek opportunities to develop new skills and gain new knowledge.



WINGS PHOTOGRAPHY LTD.

From all accounts that I have heard and from my own observations I gather that the 1993-94 school year has been very successful. Congratulations are certainly in order to Mr. Bradley and his entire staff; to the students individually and to the many and varied student committees. Particul congratulations also to all of the parents who supported and encouraged their sons and daughters in all their personal efforts and who also participated in all those committees and activities that make the school a happy and productive environment for learning. This yearbook records some of the important events of the school year and will serve to bring back many fond memories of the school, its staff and the many friends each of you has made.

To those who are leaving this school, I join with all your friends to wish you well. To those who will be returning, I say keep up the spirit and high standards of your school.

The Honourable Mr. Justice John D. Bracco

In the naming of John D. Bracco School, we recognize a man dedicated to lifelong learning.

The Honourable Mr. Justice John D. Bracco was born in Edmonton in 1925. As a child he took his studies very seriously. His capacity for hard work, coupled with an intellectual curiosity, made the role of educator an appealing career choice. He graduated from the University of Alberta with a Bachelor of Education Degree in 1949. He began his teaching career at Strathmore where he taught for three years before joining the teaching staff at Highlands Junior High School.

In 1953, he returned to the University of Alberta to pursue a law degree. While in university, Mr. Justice Bracco was elected president of the Student's Union. In his final year at the University of Alberta, he was awarded the Mothersill Memorial Scholarship by a vote of the student body. Upon graduation he established a private practice in law.

In 1964, Mr. Justice Bracco was elected to the Edmonton Public School Board. He remained on the board for seven years, serving for one year as the Chairman.

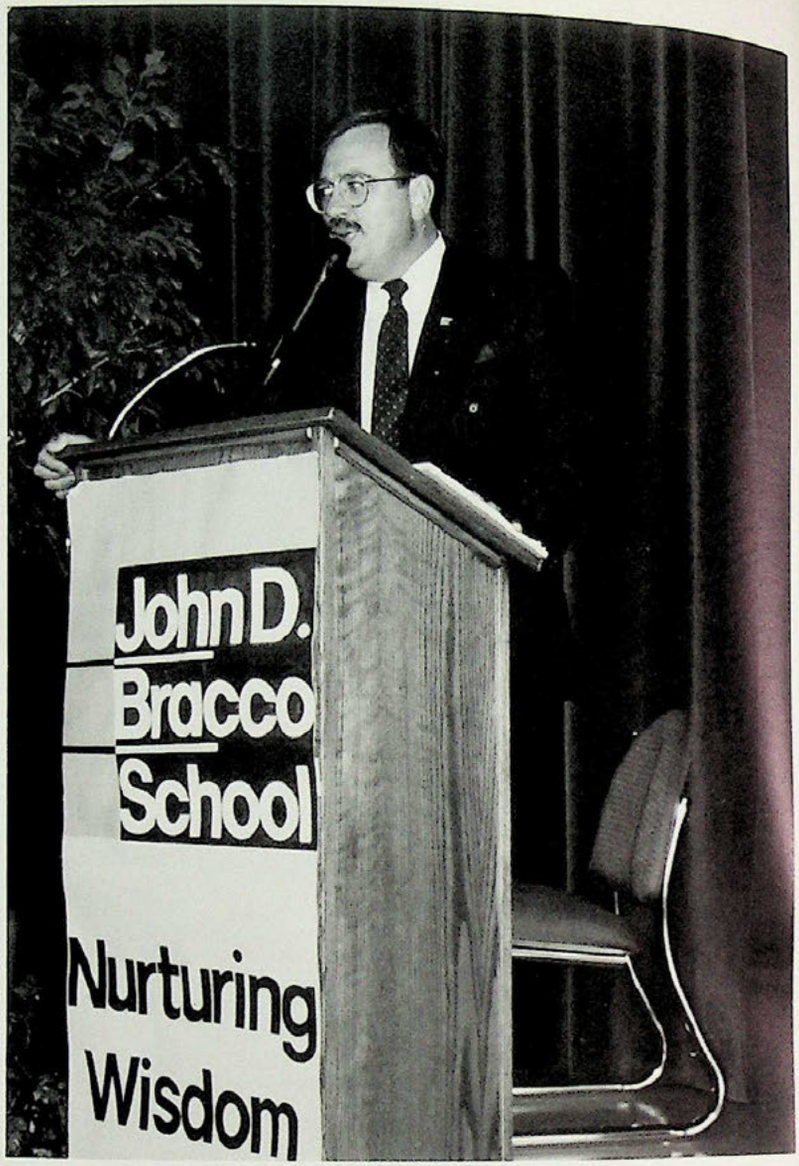
Among his many fine qualities, Mr. Justice Bracco is remembered for his diligence in all matters pertaining to school operations.

Mr. Justice Bracco was appointed to the District Court of Northern Alberta in 1975, and is currently a Justice of the Alberta Court of Appeal. He is known among his colleagues for his enthusiastic dynamism, his conscientious leadership, and his commitment to both his family and his community.

Many times throughout his career, Mr. Justice Bracco has accepted appointments that would allow him to practice his first love, teaching. He has served on many panels and committees and has lectured and worked with many provincial and national organizations. He is especially articulate on issues relating to family law.

Well educated, learned, well-spoken, respected; Mr. Justice Bracco's name lends itself perfectly to a school that is dedicated to fostering the skills knowledge and attitudes that are inherent in responsible citizenship.

Principal's Message



Congratulations on the completion of a very successful year. Every member of the Bracco community worked together to "create a part of the future". Parents, teachers, and students worked to insure that a positive learning climate existed for maximum growth and achievement within and outside the school. Everyone shared a common goal: Student Achievement.

Learning is not the placing of facts and strategies in a young persons head. It does not end after 12 years of public school. Learning is a process that is lifelong and requires an actively involved learner.

Congratulations to the students who demonstrated a knowledge of the future. You have a sense of your Rights within our society and you also understand that those Rights come with definite Responsibilities. Your challenge now is not to strive to be like everyone else, but to strive to be the best that you can be!

Ron Bradley, Principal
